

Welcome my friends from home! While Washington is far different from Texas, I think you will find it a wonderful place to visit. To make your stay as enjoyable as possible, I've included the following tour information about places of interest here in our nation's capital.

Like our Texas office, our office at 201 Cannon is designed to serve you. Please come by to visit and obtain House and Senate gallery passes. I listen to our neighbors from home in establishing priorities and in evaluating my positions on issues being considered in Congress. For additional information, please call (512) 916-5921 in Texas or (202) 225-4865 in Washington.

Enjoy your visit!

To schedule a tour of the Capitol Building, Whitehouse, or one of Washington's other popular attractions, please fill out my tour request form by clicking here

U.S. Capitol Building : Free public tours of the Capitol Building are offered every Monday through Saturday. Timed, same-day tickets are distributed on a first-come, first-served basis starting at 9:00 a.m. I recommend that you arrive as early as possible for these tours and please be prepared to show photo ID. On days when the House is in session, please stop by my office, where you can obtain gallery passes that will allow you to view the action on the House floor.

White House Tours : The White House has reopened for tours on a limited basis. White House tours require a six-month advance notice and must be arranged through my office.

NOTE: Pre-arranged Congressional tours of the following venues for individuals are NOT available until further notice:

-

The FBI Building

-

The State Department

Visitor Information

The House of Representatives Visitor Information Page has a tremendous amount of useful information about visiting Capitol Hill and the Washington, D.C. area. Start here!